Suits, Coats, Hats, Dresses and Everything Else This Season

SHOUETTE SLIM AND LONG Sleuthful Lines Prevail in All—Capes Out and Coats Come in.

MISS ELIZABETH ANN.—Miss Ann is in a brown study. Miss Ann is the most fashionable girl about town fall outfit? It will be brown. For fall to go with season and falment like coat must be well browned.

For local departments stores and change say so. The fashion magazines say so. The fashion writers say so. They all say so.

So it's "brown" about brown.

Recently out of Kentucky Military College and now presently in Camp Funston, the boy is the picture of health and physical development. He's "the kid" to the other workmen, who admire his tenacity of purpose, to be doing something worth while. To the average worker he's just a boy who's different from the average run of boys he's working and working hard.

He doesn't "blush" about brown.

The boy who thinks a brown shirt, dress, blouse, hair and accessories to Tula buy them. And shade of brown will be the old-fashioned, soft and new-fashioned, as other brown remained ru-shirts.

Little Need for Jail.

BROOKLYN, Conn., Aug. 9.—The passing of the Wetham county jail here is predicted if prohibition continues in effect. Just 21 prisoners were registered at the institution the middle of July and only four prisoners were brought to the institution since the advent of prohibition, two for their own benefit, and two for feature in the Leavenworth. There will be more and more, and yet more, as one would expect from fashion designers who stamp a slim silhouette and then fit it with straps.

The tailored suits will likewise be what, for they are, to have waist lines. The suit skirts will be shorter and fuller and many of us will be wearing, patterned fabrics, such as silks, crepes, muslins, etc.

Waists, more than otherwise will be of pepper and separate skirts of plain fabrics.

The best and hand embroidery is used extensively for trimming and everything the reverse, too, is becoming more and more popular.

The colors will be just what we need for our garments.

The fall hats have a will of their own some are close-fitting and large and others are pocketed and others are flat, but they are good looking.

gowns will be made quite a bit

Fashion has decreed that the fall is fast and high-peaked at

"in and behind." Russian
